DEARLY LOVED CITIZEN CROSSES BAR

Richard Shellman Passes Away
at His Home in Hardinsburg
--Leaves Large Family
--Was a Successful Farmer.

COUNTY JAILER EIGHT YEARS.

"Uncle Dick" Shellman, ex-county jailer for eight years, died at his home on Fourth street early Monday morning, after an illness of five weeks. It had been known to him and his friends for several days that the fatal blood poisoning would soon cause his death. He quietly and resignedly awaited the end.

Seventy-one years ago the first of December last, Richard Allen Shellman was born near Union Star. In 1865 he married Elizabeth Jane Aldridge, of Hardinsburg, and settled upon a farm two miles from town. He prospered tilling the soil, and in operating saw-mills and threshing machines. Few men in the county were so widely known, and none were more highly esteemed for their honesty and sterling worth. His popularity made him an invincible candidate when his party nine years ago called upon him to make the Democratic race for jailer. Twice he was elected, and well did he care for those who were in the clutches of the law and boarded with "Uncle Dick."

While in office his wife died. About two years ago he was married the second time. Mrs. Ermine Kingston became his second wife. She survives him.

The members of his father's family still living are John M. and Alex Shellman, of Union Star. His children are G. W., of Webb, Miss.; J. Frank, of Paducah; Mrs. J. W. Hendrick and Louis A., of Hardinsburg, and Mrs. Eliza McCoy, of Bewleyville.

The funeral services were conducted by Dr. Mather at the home on Fourth street at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, after which the interment took place in the old cemetery.

A kind, quiet, unostentatious man has passed away. As a neighbor, friend and honest citizen, he had no superior.

OLD CITIZEN

Passes Away At His Home At Garfield--Was Ninety-Two Years Old And Lived
There All His Life

Burney Durbin, one of the oldest citizens of the Garfield neighborhood, died at his home near Garfield last Monday. He was 92 years old, and has lived in that section nearly his whole life. A wife and five children survive him: Alex Durbin, Herman Durbin, Mrs. Mary Jaret, Guston; Mrs. Sally Jaret, Irvington; and Mrs. Browning, Illinois.

The remains were interred in the Catholic Cemetery at Hardinsburg.

Building a New Home.

Sam Johnson, the colored merchant of Irvington, is building a new home in his lot next to his store.

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING IN LOUISVILLE.

Miss Emma P. Schmitt And Mr.
E. Frank Carter United In Marriage Last Wednesday
At St. Antonies
Church.

LARGE NUMBER OF GUESTS.

The wedding of Miss Emma Pauline Schmitt and Mr. E. Frank Carter which was solemnized last Wednesday morning at nine o'clock at St. Anthony's church, Louisville, Kentucky, was one of the prettiest and most elaborate of the spring weddings.

The decorations in the church were most artistic, the altar was banked with palms and flowers and illuminated with hundreds of incandescent lights. Von Weber's Mass was rendered by a choir of excellent voices, and Prof. L. Kalas gave an organ solo. The attendants were: Messrs. Bernard Carter, Thomas Carter, Floyd Carter, brothers of the groom, and Mr. William B. Schmitt, a brother of the bride. The Rev. A. M. Zoeller, a cousin of the bride, officiated in the ceremony, assisted by Rev. A. C. Zoeller and Rev. Celestine Bréy, of Cloverport, and Rev. S. Schlange.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of French Battiste and a rich hat trimmed in white plumes. Her traveling dress was a gray tailored suit with hat to match.

Following the ceremony an elaborate reception was given at the bride's home at 2703 W. Jefferson from 1 until 4 o'clock that afternoon. The bride's table was gorgeously decorated with smilax, carnations and white ribbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter will be at home to their friends today at the Fisher homestead.

Mrs. Carter is the sister of Mr. Wm. B. Schmitt, president of The Business Printing Company, Louisville, and she enjoys a wide friendship in that city. Mr. Carter is a prosperous and popular young farmer of Breckenridge county.

The bride's gifts numbered more than a hundred, coming from all parts of the country. Among them were more than two dozen cut glass articles, a beautiful silver and gold tea service from Mr. Ed. Bacon, hand painted china from DeLand, Fla., and several complete sets of table silverware.

New Member of The News Staff.

Marion Clay Roff, is the new member of the staff of The Breckenridge News, and arrived last Wednesday to make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Wave Roff at the Cloverport Hotel. His father, who is foreman at the News office, named him for Mr. Marion Weatherholt, cashier of the Bank of Cloverport, and for Mr. Henry Clay Roff, father of Mrs. Roff. He is a perfect boy and promises to make good in every sense of the word.

Tile Roof.

A tile roof has been placed on the residence of Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Newsom by the Murray Tile Roofing Co., of this city. The new roof is a great protection to the house from fire.

BRIGHT-WROE.

Prof. Edmund Wroe to Wed a Southern Girl in June--Wedding Takes Place in Georgia.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Julia Nelle Bright to Mr. Edmund Wroe. The wedding will take place in June.

Miss Bright is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jackson Bright, of Toccoa, Ga., and is a charming young woman. Mr. Wroe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wroe, of this city, and is a most progressive young man. He is superintendent of the public school at Flemmingsburg, Ky., and has already been elected to that position for the 1911 term.

Miss Margaret Wroe is invited to be a house guest for the week before the wedding at the Bright home.

The End is Feared.

The condition of Dr. R. L. Newsom, who has been critically ill, shows slight improvement and there are little hopes for his recovery. His illness has occasioned much apprehension, and anxious friends have been calling at his home continuously ever since he became very low. His daughters, Mrs. Frank Boyd, of Owensboro, and Mrs. Irene Loring, of St. Louis, and Mrs. Newsom's niece, Miss Gense Brashear, of Louisville, are at his bedside.

DR. R. L. NEWSOM

Part Of The Arsenal.

Recently a Cloverport society girl spent a couple of days on one of the big farms across the river at Tobinsport. She took a great interest in everything on the farm and the head of the farm took a great interest in explaining everything to her. She trotted along to feed the stock and was amazed at all she saw. When the calf lot was reached she had learned enough to express an opinion along with her surprise and remarked, "And those are your little cowlets, aren't they?" "Nope," said the honest farmer, "them's our little bullets".--Cannelton Enquirer.

Mistaken in the girl, for Cloverport girls have been driving cows off the side-walks all their lives.--Ed.

HARMON DRISKELL

Killed in a Railroad Wreck at Standford, Ind., Last Friday
Funeral Held Sunday at Ephesus.

The funeral of Harmon Driskell, who was killed in a railroad wreck at Standford, Ind., Friday, was held at Ephesus, near Harned, Sunday afternoon. He was a member of an interlocking switch construction crew.

His car, in which they were sleeping, was on a siding. An open switch let a train crash into them wrecking their car and killing three and badly wounding eight others. Three of the wounded are Breckenridge boys, Sam. Muffett, near Cloverport; Dallas Sprigate, Garfield, and Harry Clark, of McDaniels.

Harmon Driskell, aged thirty-five, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Driskell, of Hardinsburg, and a brother of Supt. Andrew Driskell. His wife, Miss Lucinda Tivitt, of Garfield, before marriage, and three children survive him. He was a Red Man, and was buried by the members of the local tribe at Hardinsburg.

BIG DEMAND FOR HORSES.

The General Use Of Autos Has Not Affected Horse Market.

Mr. Claude Pemberton, who is one of the most extensive dealers in horses in this section, said to the News yesterday that he had about as good a demand for horses and had handled as many this spring as he had ever done. The automobile business does not seem to interfere, said Mr. Pemberton, with the demand for horses. He has handled nearly all grades of saddle horses and people want these from every section of the country and there is a larger demand than supply for high grade ones. He had handled very few harness horses for the reason that there are very few good ones in this section of Kentucky.--Elizabethtown News.

Return To Cloverport.

Mr. and Mr. Jean Kingsbury, who have been living at Orell, Ky., during the past five or six years, have returned here to make Cloverport their home. They liked Orell and prospered there, but Mr. Kingsbury says he got home sick and had to come back to this good old town. Their friends here welcome them home again and are always glad to make room for one more.

Troubles Seem To Be At End

Louisville, Ky., April 16.--The Western Kentucky coal operators and the United Mine Workers in district 23 have reached an agreement. It was stated today, which allows the miners a general increase of 6 percent. This agreement will be ratified at a meeting of the joint convention of miners and operators.

GREATER NEW YORK

Best Show On The River--Fine
People And Clean Play--Coming Back.

"The Human Slave", presented here Thursday night on Price's Floating Theater, Greater New York, was by far the best show that has ever been seen at this port.

"The company was made up of several clever players. Stone, the villain, took a leading part splendidly and was supported by O'Neil, who was as great a charmer as Jack Rose, of "The Cotton Blossom." Jerry hit every body's funny bone right and left. The girls were unusually attractive, especially Florence Sinclair.

Cloverport appreciates a clean show with real music and good people, and will indeed welcome "Greater New York" on her return trip in about four weeks from now.

Capt. Fisher, who was with Capt. Marion Ryan on the steamer "The Morning Star," had charge of the boat and had it in fine shape.

Goes to Stephensport.

The "Florence E.," the gasoline tow-boat, that has been busy the past winter and spring in the corn business here, left early Wednesday morning for her home port at Stephensport, Ky. The towing season is about over here in the grain business until the wheat begins to move, at which time she will return and will make this place her headquarters.--Uniontown Telegram.

At Missionary Meeting.

Miss Tula C. Daniels left last Tuesday for Clarksville, Tenn., to attend the thirty-second annual session of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions of which she has been a member since 1898. These meetings are attended by returned and outgoing missionaries. Twelve on furlough will be present and twelve to receive appointments to foreign lands. Bishop Hendrix will preach the annual sermon and Rev. W. G. Crane and Hon. T. H. Yen, of Korea, will attend. A very interesting session is expected.

Busiest Farmer Known.

W. M. Carman, of Holt, is on the James DeJarnette farm, and is the busiest, quickest man in ten States. He finished planting corn last week and was the first man in that neighborhood to finish planting last year. He says, "Mr. DeJarnette is a honey, but the bees will never find him." Mr. Carman is certainly a hustler, and he says he is always out before anything green is up in the ground for him, and by the time everybody else gets out to planting, he has finished.

OBSERVED

ARBOR DAY.

Judge James Montgomery Sets Out Ten Trees.

While Arbor Day, which was last Friday, was not observed in a very general way about Elizabethtown, Judge James Montgomery, the Nestor of the Elizabethtown bar, made amends for the short comings of several others. He set out with his own hands ten trees. He said that he did it for posterity as he did not expect to live long enough to sit under the shade of his own planting. Our old friend is leading a strenuous life these spring days in spite of his three score years, and probably ten, he is busy with fork and hoe in his garden when not fighting briers.--Elizabethtown News.

Mr. Stone Clerk at

D. A. R. Meeting.

In the second place, there's Jimmy Stone. Not that Jimmy Stone is a Daughter, or that he is really Jimmy at all. His botanical name is James E. Stone, clerk of the House of Representatives of the State of Kentucky for thirty years; with the most compelling and stentorian voice in the United States, who is the efficient official reader of the nineteenth D. A. R. Congress. We never had a man on the job before. It's always been a female person. But the males are coming into their own at last. So we'll take off our chancleer hats to Mr. Stone. He is one of the most popular participants of the Congress.--Mrs. Ayers, Washington correspondent for Courier-Journal.

Hoosier Soldier Boy.

Lloyd Miller Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Payne, of Tobinsport, Ind., who enlisted in the U. S. service during January, has been transferred to the Hospital Corps, and has gone to Ft. D. A. Russell, Wyo., where he is taking a course in the medical school. He likes the army, and is well satisfied. There are 4,000 men at Ft. Russell, and it is the largest fort in the U. S.

Admitted to the Bar.

Roy E. Moorman, member of the senior law class of the Law College of Central University, passed the examination and was admitted to the bar last Saturday in Louisville. Mr. Moorman is a brother of Henry DeHaven Moorman, well-known attorney of Breckenridge county. He expects to locate in the West.

City Improvements.

Severs Drug Company has made quite an improvement in the interior of its store in the way of varnishing the wood work and brightening up the walls and furnishings.
